

YOUNG GUNS WRESTLING CLUB IS MAKING A HOME IN THE OHIO VALLEY

December 12, 2018

The Young Guns Wrestling Club is happy to announce that they will be opening a training location in the Ohio Valley. Starting on Sunday, January 6th, Young Guns will move onto the campus of Wheeling Jesuit University and will begin conducting practices every Sunday morning from 11:00 am to 12:30 pm and Tuesday evenings from 6:30 pm to 8:00 pm.

Young Guns Co-Founder and Coach Jody Strittmatter, an NCAA Division II National Champion at UPJ and a Division I NCAA Runner Up at the University of Iowa and his team of highly qualified coaches are looking forward to moving into the Ohio Valley. Included on Coach Strittmatter's coaching staff is Brian Kapusta, Coach Kapusta is a 3X National Champion at North Dakota State University who has been instrumental in the development of many of the Young Guns wrestlers will be spending a lot of time teaching and instructing in the Wheeling room as well.

"The Ohio Valley has a huge pool of talented wrestlers and having an elite club like Young Guns in our backyard is just going to take these kids to the next level. I look forward to seeing how far these committed wrestlers can go with Coach Strittmatter starting a location here in Wheeling." Wheeling Jesuit University Head Coach Danny Irwin.

Over the years Young Guns has produced numerous NCAA National Champions at the Division I and Division II level such as Jason Nolf, Vincenzo Joseph, Nico Megaludis and Spencer Lee and countless All Americans and state champions.

Young Guns is designed to get every wrestler to the next level regardless if they are high school, middle school or youth wrestler.

"Knowing what I know about Young Guns and Coach Strittmatter the Ohio Valley could not be getting a person more dedicated to the wrestlers he is training. If you want to be trained by arguably the best technician in the country then get to Young Guns and get there as much as you can." WV Hall of Fame Member Ed "Buzz" Evans.

Cost for membership is $100 for one wrestler, $150 for 2 wrestlers in family and $190 for 3 wrestlers in family as well as a $30 initial insurance payment. Drop in rate is $20 per workout.
